

August 2017

Missions Bulletin

*Paul and Sandy Jewell
Campus Bible Fellowship*

Thank you for your continued prayers for the CBF ministry in Syracuse. We are sorry it has been so long between letters. It has been a good and busy summer. The Lord blessed with good travels, visits and ministries.

Now the process of preparing for a new academic year begins. The first day of classes is August 21 at Onondaga Community College, and August 28 at Syracuse University. The plan is to move the OCC Bible study back to Wednesdays at 11:15. There is an opportunity at OCC on August 22 to contact students at an information table on campus. Pray that the YMCA on campus will still arrange a room for the CBF Bible study, and that the price will not increase.

For many years we have been able to arrange for information tables at SU. It has been increasingly difficult (and sometimes impossible) for non-students to navigate the sites. We appreciate the willingness of the students to work to accomplish what is needed. Leadership is in place for this year at SU. The membership list for CBF at SU is very close to the required number of 8. This summer a pastor here in NY State drove to the Syracuse area to introduce a student to the CBF ministry in Syracuse. He will be a student at the Environmental Science and Forestry College which qualifies him to be part of the student group at SU.

Prayer:

Spiritual needs of campers in Maine

CBF and Team North America responsibilities

Spiritual growth for college students

Physical strength and wisdom for ministry

Spiritual strength

New student contacts at SU and OCC

Wisdom for the future