

March 2018

Missions Bulletin

Paul and Sandy Jewell
Campus Bible Fellowship

Dear Friends,

This month we are pursuing a ministry extension request in coordination with our sending church and Baptist Mid-Missions. The result could impact how we handle savings funds. Also this month CBF at Syracuse University is in the process of pursuing the required registration with the chapel on campus. There are forms and reports to fill out. It also involves a meeting with the dean of the chapel. There is always concern until the process is completed. Pray we will have wisdom to pursue this to the glory of God.

This semester more students have been able to be consistent in attending the weekly meeting. Pray for them as they face many pressures in their lives and in academics. One of the students is planning to travel to Guatemala during spring break. Spanish is her native language as well as one of her majors in college. She will be working as a translator with a group from the SUNY College of Environmental Science and Forestry. The group is with Engineers without Borders.

A new believer is attending the Bible studies regularly, meeting individually with Paul, and is making many good decisions. He is dealing wisely with writing papers and doing assignments. He met respectfully with a professor who is antagonistic toward Christianity. She mellowed toward him and even gave him 100% on a paper with which she would have obviously disagreed. It was a good lesson for all of us.

Prayer:

- Process of registration at SU
- More solid contacts for this year and next
- Wisdom and strength for students
- Spiritual growth and commitment of students
- To conclude the academic year strong
- Wisdom for ministry and use of resources
- Continued health and strength